

HEN Programme of workshops for Personal and
Continuing Professional Development
2010 -2011

In conjunction with the Forum for Environmental Volunteering Activity
And
Cairngorms National Park

This programme of workshops and training events is aimed at everyone with an interest in encouraging others, particularly children and members of their community, to becoming involved in caring for our environment.

The courses will be delivered by a range of providers - all are members of HEN (Highland Environmental Network).

These providers include:

Aigas Field Centre
Glachbeg Croft
Abriachan Forest Trust
BTCV (British Trust for Conservation Volunteers)
Cairngorms National Park
FEVA (Forum for Environmental Volunteering Activity)

The fees for each course will go some way to covering the cost of these courses and ensuring they will run with even a small number

What is HEN?

The Highland Environmental Network (HEN) is a voluntary member organisation promoting environmental education in the Highlands. The organisations currently represented on the Management Group are:

Highland Council, British Trust for Conservation Volunteers Scotland, Aigas Field Centre, Glachbeg Croft Education Centre, and Scottish Environment Protection Agency (SEPA) and other interested parties (individuals and groups).

HEN exists to:-

- Promote environmental education, in its widest sense, in all sectors of the Highland community
- Facilitate sharing of environmental information and expertise
- Encourage the involvement of individuals and community groups in environmental debate and action

Description of Workshop

Leading Environmental Volunteers looks at how we engage and work with volunteers in the outdoors. The workshop will cover a range of topics including health and safety outdoors, volunteer management, volunteer contracts and induction as well as keeping our volunteers motivated and recognising success and achievement. The trainer will provide a range of handouts as well as signposting participants to other related training courses and websites.

Trainer

Julia Duncan is the Volunteer Management Development Officer for the Forum of Environmental Volunteering Activity. Currently hosted by BTCV Scotland Julia is responsible for enhancing the training and support mechanisms for those who work with volunteers in the outdoors, across Scotland.

Cost for the workshop including lunch is: £35

How to get to here:

http://maps.google.co.uk/maps/ms?hl=en&ie=UTF8&lr=lang_en&msa=0&msid=109963219196733311600.00047a75a90f2b2db2c9b&ll=58.648101,-3.344049&spn=0.01563,0.036478&z=14&source=embed

Coming from the south, turn right at the first set of traffic lights in Thurso on to the John o Groats road which is the A836. Follow the road to Dunnet, pass the hotel on the left, and turn left, onto the B855, towards Dunnet Head viewpoint. After about 50 yards you will cross a little bridge .. DO NOT GO STRAIGHT ON. Follow the road to the right until you reach the village of Brough. Turn left towards Dunnet Head, past the bus and information shelters. About 300 yards further on you will see a large green barn on the left. Pass this and Windhaven cottage is about another 100yds further on, on the right hand side of the road.. If you are using an Ordnance Survey which shows a telephone box outside the property, please note that it has been removed. Also, If you use our postcode (KW14 8YE) to enter into a SatNav this will take you into the centre of the village, not directly to us."
